

FEED THE FUTURE

The U.S. Government's Global Hunger & Food Security Initiative

This Feed the Future Week, Join Us to Celebrate #HerImpact

Around the world, women's economic success has a ripple effect.

It leads to more inclusive economic growth, better nutrition and health, and stronger resilience and stability. From Ghana to Nepal, women are key to ending hunger and are making an impact as leaders, groundbreakers, influencers, entrepreneurs and innovators.

This week, Feed the Future and partners are celebrating #HerImpact in building a food-secure, nutritious and resilient world.

Join us for the conversation on why women's empowerment matters and how we can turn potential into progress to #EndHunger.
